Stewardship 2017 Begins

The 2017 Stewardship Campaign has begun! “Kickoff Sunday” was October 9, and Commitment Sunday is November 13. Please use this time period to consider what YOU can give to support our church, its programs, and its missions. Many of us are already giving to the HVAC project, but it takes more than furnaces, air conditioners, and a roof to make a church function.

If you pledged last year and survived the doubled-up giving, I ask you to continue at that level this year. If your circumstances allow, try bumping up your pledge by five or ten dollars (or more) a month. If you haven’t pledged in the past, try it! There’s a feeling of structure and continuity when you budget a certain amount each month. The simplicity of automatic-funds-transfer is my personal preference, but if you like to put your contribution envelope in the offering plate, that’s fine, too. Recently, a third option has been offered, and some people are opting to use their smart phones to pay online. Whatever you decide, you can feel confident that your money will be used wisely. Our staff and lay leaders are conscientious stewards, seeing that our contributions are distributed fairly to various church, community, and world-wide missions.

Our Stewardship theme is “GO! & DO LIKEWISE,” and our hymn for the season is, “Go, Make a Difference.” I can’t think of a better way to accomplish these goals than to pledge our time, talents, and treasures to Plymouth Church!

Jan Gibson, Stewardship Chairperson

Annual Election Meeting Sunday, October 23

The Annual Election Meeting is Sunday, October 23. Plymouth members are asked to remain in the sanctuary after worship, as we vote on the slate of officers for 2017-2018 as presented by the Nominating Committee (see page 8). The status of the recent building construction also will be discussed.

NOTE: Due to this important event, the Plymouth Brunch Bunch, usually scheduled on the fourth Sunday of the month, will not meet.

Empty Bowls Event Sunday, October 23

On Sunday, October 23, following worship and the annual election meeting, a bread and soup lunch will be served to benefit the Just Neighbors Interfaith Homeless Network of Fort Wayne. A suggested donation of $10 per person (over the age of 6) will give you the opportunity to share in this simple meal, reminding us that there are those in Fort Wayne who struggle daily to provide a meal for their families.

Unique, handmade ceramic bowls also are available for a suggested donation of $10 each. Each donation is a real and tangible way to support the on-going mission of Just Neighbors Interfaith Homeless Network.

This is the sixteenth year that this organization has provided a safe, warm place to stay for families in need. Just Neighbors IHN is the only shelter in Fort Wayne where families are kept together when they are in need of temporary housing.

Please come and support this very worthwhile community outreach and make a difference in the lives of families that are in need of temporary shelter right here in Fort Wayne.

NE Association Meeting October 23

The UCC Northeast Association meeting will be held at 2:00 pm, New Hope UCC, Bippus, IN.

JSOR Event At Plymouth October 28 & 29

A Progressive Jesus for Progressive Religion: The historical Jesus was a progressive teacher who raised important questions and sought fresh answers. Using rhetorical strategies such as parables and aphorisms that employ humor to undercut and undermine the powerful political structures of his day, Jesus envisioned an alternative way to look at the world, a so-called Domain of God. How might these same strategies enliven religion today?

Speakers

Paul Jones (Ph.D., Vanderbilt) is Professor of Religion at Transylvania University. He has authored several books, including The Church's Seven Deadly Secrets (2012), and The Structure of Religion: Judaism and Christianity with William J. Leffler (2005).

Perry Kea (Ph.D., University of Virginia) is Associate Professor of Biblical Studies at the University of Indianapolis, Indiana. A Fellow of the Jesus Seminar since 1987, he currently serves as Chair of the Westar Institute Board of Directors.

Program Details

The Teaching of the Historical Jesus, Friday evening, 7:30 – 9:00 pm

In contrast to older quests of the historical Jesus that focused on his psychology and acts, the renewed quest asked after Jesus' voiceprint. What forms of rhetoric did he use? What was his unique way of teaching? Why and how does the use of counter-intuitive metaphors and edgy social commentary keep the historical Jesus relevant for our time? (Perry Kea)

Silencing Jesus with Philosophy, Saturday, 9:30 – 10:30 am

There are several ways in which the voice of Jesus failed to become the voice of the Church. Rather than hear the parables of Jesus and think about his vision, the Church usually interpreted his parables as allegories and recast his vision onto a supernatural world. The main challenge today is to hear Jesus again for the first time. (Perry Kea)

Jesus in the Early Movement, Saturday, 11:00 am – noon

The only access we have to the historical Jesus is through texts, both inside and outside the Bible. They show how Jesus' message was shaped by the confluence of ancient religion and politics. They reveal how he was understood in emerging Christian communities. How does knowing that early frame of reference help us assess Jesus' significance for today? (Paul Jones)

Silencing Jesus with Politics, Saturday, 1:30 – 2:30 pm

Constantine reached a settlement with the Church in 325 AD. In this bartered deal, the Roman Empire got our bodies and the Church got our souls. This disembodied and spiritualized Christianity persists in U.S. politics today. Would a progressive Jesus change a nation that leads the world in rates of incarceration and arms sales? If so, how? (Paul Jones)

Questions and Answers, Saturday, 3:00 – 4:00 pm

The scholars will discuss the importance of a progressive Jesus and engage in questions and answers.

All items are provided by low-income people working to support their families. These items are provided by volunteers from Friends of the Third World, a non-profit ministry aiding the poor through employment and education programs.

Take a few minutes and find a gift that gives TWICE!

From the Senior Pastor

Dear Friends,

For over five months, we have been engaged in a construction project the likes of which I've never experienced. We have patiently endured various demolition phases (removing well-bunkered old fuel tanks, radiators, and two antiquated boilers); weeks of asbestos abatement; and construction phases that have included installation of new pipes and duct work, air handlers, sump pumps, and the much anticipated high-efficiency Lockinvar boilers.

Replacing the church's HVAC system has been an incredibly large undertaking, impacting every interior space of the church, from top to bottom. We ran into a few glitches along the way: periodically we lost phone service, which was a frustration; we didn't have hot water for most of the summer. We needed to tap into the contingency fund for some unforeseen but necessary expenses. But all told, we've managed fairly well. While not all the dust has settled (which has been excessive!), the end is in sight. Thank God!

You may have noticed that, just a couple of weeks ago, the new air conditioning system in the Folsom Room was turned on. As I write this, the new heating system is being tested to ensure we are prepared for the heating season. The most welcome news to report is that we are on schedule.

The Steering Committee for the mechanical upgrades to our HVAC system (Laura Rudolph, Dan Hamblin, and Sam Lipscomb) has set the date of November 20 for celebrating the completion of our project. An invitation is being extended to our consulting and design firm (Primary Engineering), and our General Contractor (Current Mechanical), as well as to all subcontractors involved with the project. We have been capably served by a number of people who have genuinely appreciated the opportunity to work on our behalf. The reception will give us an opportunity to express our personal thanks and appreciation.

We are soon to close a significant chapter in the life of Plymouth Church. What we have accomplished together over the past few months will hopefully serve the people of Plymouth for generations to come. We have much for which to be grateful. I'm particularly thankful for the generous financial support that has enabled us to proceed thus far in a responsible and confident manner. It feels good to know that we are "Here, for Good."

Sincerely,
John P. Gardner

Welcome to Allie Meriwether Brown, New Plymouth Intern

We realize folks today lead very busy lives, and we appreciate your commitment to making Boars Head 2016 another wonderful worship experience for our community!

Jim Schmidt and Kara Jaurigue
